Making College Affordable

January 10, 2008

Jason, it is my honor to send you this letter...

We have all heard the phrase “You get what you paid for” well our family had no idea we would be getting more for our money than we had expected from NCP Services!

From our very first meeting with Jason Herner Director of National College Planners we were given honest, informative information on how to help our daughter with the application process and also pay for the college expenses we were facing. To be honest we were a bit apprehensive prior to our first meeting with NCP as we were told from others “you don’t need a college counselor you can do it all yourself without paying for their services.” They were wrong...some things are worth paying for!

In the NCP seminar I attended all the information Jason gave proved to be honest and informative whether you utilized his services or not. I would definitely tell you to attend the free workshops he offers; as the information he provides is worth more than the two hours of your time! He had stated that if you have the time to find the resources, apply, and complete all applicable paperwork for eligibility for the various grants, scholarships, and loans available then you can do this on your own.

However, if you are like we were, unaware of the financial aid process and without the knowledge or the time to prepare all the necessary paperwork, NCP services would definitely be an enormous help to you!

Jason and the staff at NCP have been very professional and helpful...making a difference for us beyond our expectations! From helping us with our daughter’s future education and financial assistance, as well as helping us look out for ourselves and our future retirement!

Jason has always made us feel comfortable. He was available if we needed any guidance or assistance, gave us the time we needed to understand our obstacles, and lead us to a clear path as to how we would achieve the financial assistance for our daughter’s education.

National College Planners has been one of the best decisions we’ve made for our family and our future! Jason and NCP Services have done everything they said he would do and more! We cannot tell you how valuable this experience has been. The phrase “you get what you pay for” has a new meaning to our family as Jason Herner and NCP has provided us with so much more than we had expected!
